• Let me not to the marriage of true minds • Admit impediments: love is not love • Which alters when it alteration finds	That looks on tempests and is never shaken; love's not time's fool, though rose lips and cheeks love alters not with his brief hours and weeks. Or bends with the remover to remove. Whose worth's unknown, although his height be taken. But bears it out even to the edge of doom. Which alters when it alteration finds, if this be error and upon me proved, let me not to the marriage of true minds: I never will, nor no man ever loved.
